   - If you are appealing a decision please provide information about the denied request.

Sunstar’s process to fulfil a privacy rights request:
   First, we acknowledge your request.
      - Sunstar will first send you a message acknowledging receipt of your request within 10 days.

   Next, we ensure that you are the person making the request.
      - In general, when you make a request Sunstar will take steps to verify your identity.
      - Verification steps may include asking you for personal information, such as your name, address, or other information we maintain about you.
      - If we are unable to verify your identity with the degree of certainty required, we will not be able to respond to the request. In that case, we will notify you to explain the basis of the denial.

   Finally, we provide a response.
      - We will either honor your request or tell you why we denied it.

Your agent can submit requests for you.
   - You may also designate an authorized agent to submit requests on your behalf.
   - If you do so, you will be required to verify your identity by providing us with certain personal information as described above.
   - Additionally, we will also require written proof the agent has permission to act on your behalf.
   - We will deny your request if the agent is unable to submit proof to us that you have authorized them to act on your behalf.

How long will it take?
   - Sunstar will either fulfill or reject your request as soon as we can, generally within 45 days from when we receive your request (or less, if required by law).
   - But we may be allowed to take longer to process your request under certain circumstances.
We will let you know if we expect your request will take us longer than normal to fulfill.

What if my request is denied?

- You may appeal the denial if you feel we have made a mistake.
- To submit an appeal please use the same method of contact listed above.

9. YOUR PRIVACY CHOICES

Messaging and newsletter communications.

- You may control how you receive certain types of communications by unsubscribing within the body of the communication.
- Note that some messages are required, service-related messages like transaction confirmation messages, legal notices, or updates.
- If you no longer wish to use our Services or our Websites, or receive optional communications then you may submit requests to delete your account and your personal information.

Cookies and web tracking technologies.

What we use on the Services.

- We use cookies and other embedded tracking technology like web beacons, and pixels which automatically collect users’ browsing information when they use our Websites.

Third-Party Cookies.

- You will find other parties’ trackers on our Websites. Other parties like our analytics and advertising partners place code with cookies or web beacons embedded in them. Some third-party cookies are used to track a particular user’s activity across the Internet.

Limiting Google’s Tracking and Data Collection Through Cookies.

- You may limit the automatic collection of information by Google, including the collection of personal information about your online activities over time and across third-party websites or online services, by opting-out of such collection. Download the opt-out browser extension, located here, to opt-out of the automatic collection of browsing and device data.

Opt out of cross-site and interest-based advertising.

First, this is not a universal opt out request you submit to us.

- Submitting a request to opt out of cross-site advertising using the methods below is not the same as opting out of the way we use your personal information.
- Sunstar does not receive your opt out of cross-site advertising.

What happens when I opt out of cross-site advertising?
When you opt out, your selection is stored on a cookie on your device.
If you delete the cookie from that device or sign in from a different device, you will need to opt out again.

Does opting out of cross-site advertising stop all data collection?
- Because the data used for interest-based advertising is also used for other necessary purposes (including providing our Services, for authentication, and security purposes), opting out of interest-based advertising does not stop the data from being collected nor reduce the number of advertisements you will see.
- However, the data will not be used for interest-based advertising, which means the advertisements you do see may be less relevant to you.

Is my mobile device included when I opt out of cross-site advertising?
- When using a mobile application, you may receive interest-based in-application advertisements.
- Depending on your device, you may be able to reset your mobile device’s advertising identifier at any time by accessing the privacy settings on your device.
- In addition, each operating system (e.g., iOS for Apple devices, Android for Android devices and Windows for Microsoft devices) provides its own instructions on how to prevent the delivery of interest-based in-application advertisements.
- You may review the support materials and/or the privacy settings for the respective operating system in order to opt-out of interest-based in-application advertisements.
- For any other devices and/or operating systems, please visit the privacy settings for the applicable device or contact (or review the applicable privacy web page of) the applicable platform operator.

Limit the automatic collection of information by any participating third-party advertisers.
- To submit your request to opt-out of that automatic collection of browsing data, visit:
  - The Digital Advertising Alliance page, or
  - The Network Advertising Initiative page.

10. LOCATION OF PROCESSING

Your personal information may be transferred to and processed by the recipients indicated in “How We Disclose Information to Others” section of this Privacy Policy. Some of these recipients may be located in a country outside the one where you reside, and which may not offer similar levels of data protection by law.

Those parties may be located both within and outside the European Union or European Economic Area, the United Kingdom, or Switzerland.

When your information is moved from your home country to another country, the laws and rules that protect your personal data in the country to which your information is transferred may be different from those in the country in which you live. For example, the circumstances in which law enforcement can access personal data may vary from country to country. In particular, if your information is in the United States, it may be accessed by government authorities in accordance with U.S. law.

Please be advised that information Sunstar collects about you via the Services may be transferred, processed and/or accessed by us in the United States, or another country where we, or our service providers operate. Please be aware that the privacy laws and standards in certain countries, including the rights of authorities to access your personal data, may differ from those that apply in the country in which you reside. If you are located outside the United States and choose to allow us to collect information about you, please be aware that Sunstar may transfer your personal data to the United States and process and store it there. We will transfer personal data only to those countries to which we are permitted by law to transfer personal data.
